Chairman's Message

2010 was a historic year for U.S.-India relations and President Obama's 3-day long India visit provided a dynamic momentum to the growing U.S.-India relationship.

During this visit, President Obama and Prime Minister Manmohan Singh sealed several new partnerships with special focus on business and economic ties.

An important initiative during the Presidential visit, was the signing of an MoU between India and the U.S. for setting up an Energy Cooperation Program (ECP). The ECP, I am happy to report, is housed and served by Amcham India, thus enhancing significantly our role in furthering U.S.-India cooperation in the energy sector.

The year gone by has been eventful for Amcham too. Immediately on assuming Chairmanship of Amcham, I, along with Ajay and a few Committee Chairmen, called on a number of Indian Cabinet Ministers and senior Government officials.

During these meetings, we presented Amcham's views on a number of issues highlighting the need for reforms required to attract FDI, particularly relaxing the caps on FDI in retail and insurance. A Bill to raise the FDI limit in the insurance sector from 26 per cent to 49 per cent awaiting Parliament approval needs to be passed urgently. This would help the Insurance Industry grow at a much faster pace and also attract larger foreign investment. Allowing foreign investment in multi-brand retail has been on the anvil for long but Government has not taken a final decision. Global investors are wary of delays in getting land acquisition and environmental clearances.

To boost FDI, the Indian Government has recently eased rules for foreign firms in joint ventures to launch other partnerships or solo ventures in the same field. However, accelerating disinvestment, privatizing areas of Government monopoly like coal mining will buoy investment sentiments even more.

India will continue to remain an important economic and business partner for the U.S. The Indian economy is expected to register a growth of 8.6 per cent in the fiscal year 2010-11, and is aiming at a growth of over 9 per cent for 2011-12. We, at AMCHAM, are confident that the Government can keep the growth momentum provided it takes necessary initiatives to ease policies in various sectors of the economy and give clear signals that it is going to improve the investment climate and open up FDI further through a policy framework that is transparent, simple and reduces the regulatory burden.

The Chairmen of the 6 Regional Chapters of Amcham at Bangalore, Chennai, Hyderabad, Kolkata, Mumbai and New Delhi have played an increasingly active role in their respective regions by engaging with the external stakeholders and sensitizing them on issues of concern to member companies. I would like to thank each one of them for their untiring support.

I also received very valuable support and guidance from all the members of the Executive Board. I take this opportunity to thank them all, particularly the two Vice-Chairmen, Mr. Aniruddha Lahiri and Mr. Russell Parera, Mr. Atul Dhawan, Hony. Treasurer and Mr. Andrew Horne, Hony. Secretary (who was with us till January 2011). I also wish to thank Mr. Vinod Chandiok, Partner, Walker Chandiok & Co., for auditing Amcham accounts on pro bono basis.

Finally, I would like to thank all the members of Amcham, the National and the Regional Secretariats for their initiatives and team work.

It has been an honor and privilege to have served as the Chairman of the National Executive Board of Amcham India. I also wish a very active year and great success to my successor who will be elected at the board meeting later today.

Dr. Dinesh Keskar
Chairman

Executive Director's Report

The year gone by (May 2010-April 2011) has been very eventful for US - India relations and specially for Amcham India. We started the year by calling on a number of Indian Cabinet Ministers and senior Government officials. These included Mr. P. Chidambaram, Home Minister; Mr. Vilasrao Deshmukh, the then Minister of Heavy Industries & Public Enterprises; Mr. Sushil Kumar Shinde, Minister of Power; Mr. Prithviraj Chavan, the then Minister of State in Prime Minister's Office; and Mr. Sachin Pilot, Minister of State for Communications and Information Technology. Some of our Committee Chairs and select members also called on Mr. M.M. Pallam Raju, Minister of State for Defence; and Mr. Tarun Kumar Gogoi, Chief Minister of Assam. While appraising the ministers of our Chamber's activities, we did try and bring out some of the issues of concern to our members.

Similarly at the regional level, the Chapter Chairmen and members interacted with Indian State Government officials and visiting dignitaries from the US.

We also met senior officials in the Government and some of our concerns were brought to their attention. The Chairman accompanied by sectoral committee Chairmen called on Mr. G.K. Pillai, Home Secretary; Mr. Ashok Chawla, the then Finance Secretary; Mr. R. Chandrasekhar, Telecom Secretary; Mr. Sunil Mitra, Revenue Secretary; and Mr. Rahul Khullar, Commerce Secretary. Several meetings with Additional Secretaries and Joint Secretaries in various ministries were also organized for sectoral committees during the year.

We had the opportunity of being addressed by Mr. Vilasrao Deshmukh, Mr. M.M. Pallam Raju, Mr. T. Ramasami, Secretary, Ministry of Science & Technology; Mr. S.D. Majumder, Chairman, Central Board of Excise & Customs and other senior Revenue Dept. officials. This was done to try and get a better understanding of the Governments view points on some of the issues where there was a keen interest amongst our membership. The divergence of positions between various stakeholders was also discussed in a harmonious manner, positioning Amcham as a responsible stakeholder in India's economic growth process.

The Tax, Tariff and Regulatory Affairs Committee constantly provided inputs on behalf of Amcham members to the Government on issues ranging from GST, DTC and the Pre-Budget Memorandum. Many of the suggestions made by Amcham have been incorporated in the Budget presented by the Finance Minister in February this year. There were huge challenges for companies in the telecom sector after the Government introduced new telecom security guidelines. The Amcham Telecom Committee took up these issues through representations and meetings with senior Government officials in the Home and Telecommunications Ministries. The Defense and Homeland Security Committees of Amcham, in their dialogue with various Government organizations and officials discussed deepening of defense cooperation to address security challenges in the country. The other Committees took up issues relating to import of medical equipment and devices; strong patent laws and implementation; pre-clinical evaluation guidelines; position on biosimilars, etc.

Throughout the year, Amcham played host to a number of U.S. Government delegations. The most significant among these was the visit of U.S. Secretary of Commerce Gary Locke who assured the Indian Government the fullest U.S. support both Government and private sectors to meet development challenges ranging from upgrading infrastructure, healthcare and energy to name a few. More importantly, the U.S. Secretary of Commerce emphasized the need to reduce tariff and non-tariff barriers; improving IPR protection and encouraging FDI by lifting various restrictions on FDI. Amcham had the privilege of hosting other senior U.S. Government officials like the President and Chairman of Ex-Im Bank USA, Ambassador Philip Verveer, US Coordinator for International Communications and Julius Genachowski, Chairman and President of Federal Communications Commission, Ambassador Marantis, Deputy USTR, Mike Delaney, Assistant USTR, Holly Vineyard, DAS, U.S. Department of Commerce, Senator George Lemieux, Ambassador Michael Punke, Deputy USTR, Francisco J. Sanchez, Under Secretary of Commerce for International Trade, Dr. Lawrence Summers, Chief Economic Adviser to the U.S. Government and Mr. Anees Chopra, Chief Technology Officer.

In partnership with Deloitte, we brought out a special publication on the eve of President Obama's visit. Entitled "Indo - US Dynamics: Anchoring Change through collaboration". The publication was very well received by officials in Government both in India and the US. This has encouraged us to bring out special reports on occasional basis and we are keen to receive inputs and support from members in future as well. For the first time, Amcham ventured into bringing out an Amcham bimonthly newsletter on a regular basis with effect from January 2011. The newsletter is aimed at providing balanced and quality information on subjects of interest to the membership. Defense, Homeland Security and Energy as focussed subjects have been covered in the last three publications. The newsletter is sent out regularly to key officials in the Government of India who are interacting with our membership on a regular basis. We are confident that by this exercise the profile of Amcham as a serious business association and American companies in general will be further enhanced within Government circles.

We continued to have joint events with USIBC, FICCI, EBG and BBG, thus, bringing a larger audience for the benefit of our membership.

Successful delegations of Amcham were launched to Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Singapore. The delegates interacted with Government officials and other business leaders to get a better understanding of investment conditions and scout for new business opportunities. In addition to the respective US Embassies, the Amchams and APCAC provided support to successfully organize our programs in these countries.

I would like to thank Dr. Dinesh Keskar who inspite of his busy schedule gave a lot of time to attend Amcham meetings and guide us in our activities. I would also like to thank the Chairmen of the Regional Chapters for their leadership and untiring support, while continuing to request all members for their active support in the year ahead...
